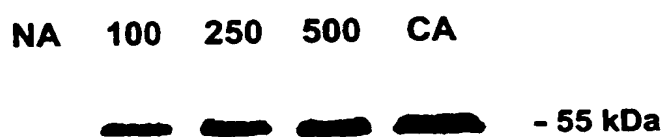

FIGURE 3

A black and white photograph of a vast, flat landscape, likely a tundra or a large open field. The foreground is dark and textured, possibly covered in low-lying vegetation or rocks. The middle ground is a lighter, flat expanse that stretches towards a distant line of trees. The background shows a dense line of trees under a dark sky. The overall scene is desolate and expansive.

A dark, textured, black and white image, possibly a scan of a book cover or a heavily underexposed photograph. The surface appears grainy and uneven, with some lighter, irregular patches visible, suggesting wear or damage. The overall tone is very dark, almost black.
